

The Georgetown Historical Society Presents

New England Railroads Past & Present

By Stephen Delaney

May 20, 2009, 7:00 – 9:00 PM
Peabody Library Meeting Room
Georgetown, MA.

Join us as Stephen Delaney, our Town Administrator and avid Railroad Enthusiast presents an illustrated program about New England's Railroads including:

- An overview of their history & early importance
- A review of their overall status today and prognosis for their future
- Tips on visiting railroad/trolley museums and planning trips on operating tourist railroads.

As a teacher at Boston University on issues relating to the railroads as well as a frequent traveler on many operating tourist railroads, Mr. Delaney has much to share about all facets of railroading.
